THE IMPORTANCE OF D-DAY, JUNE 6th, 1944

On Thursday, June 6th 2024 (80 years later), Nightly News aired a special regarding D-Day whereas we see a 21 gun salute (this is a special event). It's important to note before reading the following article that there was no "PLAN B" for D-Day. It was all or nothing. The Nazi's were expecting an invasion, due in part to false information that was leaked, but did not know where, when and how many were coming. Many 100 year old survivors of D-Day were recognized and honored this past June 6th.

The Normandy landings were the landing operations and associated airborne operations on Tuesday, June 6th, 1944 of the Allied invasion of Normandy in Operation Overlord during the Second World War. Codenamed Operation Neptune and often referred to as D-Day, it is the largest seaborne invasion in history. Almost 133,000 troops from the United States, the British Commonwealth, and their allies, landed on D-Day. Casualties from these countries during the landing numbered 10,300. By June 30, over 850,000 men, 148,000 vehicles, and 570,000 tons of supplies had landed on the Normandy shores.

10 things you might not know about D-Day

- It doesn't stand for what you think. ...
- Britain was not alone. ...
- Even the Allied Forces couldn't beat the weather. ...
- Hitler had been preparing. ...
- It wasn't the easiest option on the table. ...
- Equipment had to be specially invented. ...
- The South of England was transformed. ...
- Fake news played a big role.

Operation Overlord was the codename for the Battle of Normandy, the Allied operation that launched the successful liberation of German-occupied Western Europe during World War II. A 1,200-plane airborne assault preceded an amphibious assault involving more than 5,000 vessels. Nearly 160,000 troops crossed the English Channel on June 6th, and more than two million Allied troops were in France by the end of August.

The decision to undertake cross-channel landings in 1944 was taken at the Trident Conference in Washington in May 1943. General Dwight D. Eisenhower was appointed commander of Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, and General Bernard Montgomery was named commander of the 21st Army Group, which comprised all the land forces involved in the operation. The coast of Normandy of northwestern

France was chosen as the site of the landings, with the Americans assigned to land at sectors codenamed Utah and Omaha, the British at Sword and Gold, and the Canadians at Juno. To meet the conditions expected on the Normandy beachhead, special technology was developed, including two artificial ports called Mulberry harbors and an array of specialized tanks nicknamed Hobart's Funnies. In the months leading up to the landings, the Allies conducted Operation Bodyguard, a substantial military deception that used electronic and visual misinformation to mislead the Germans as to the date and location of the main Allied landings. Adolf Hitler placed Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in charge of developing fortifications all along Hitler's proclaimed Atlantic Wall in anticipation of landings in France.

The Allies failed to accomplish their objectives the first day, but gained a tenuous foothold that they gradually expanded when they captured the port at Cherbourg on 26 June and the city of Caen on 21 July. A failed counterattack by German forces in response to Allied advances on 7 August left 50,000 soldiers of the German 7th Army trapped in the Falaise pocket by 19 August. The Allies launched a second invasion from the Mediterranean Sea of southern France (code-named Operation Dragoon) on 15 August, and the Liberation of Paris followed on August 25th. German forces retreated east across the Seine on 30th of August 1944, marking the close of Operation Overlord.

In June 1940, Germany's leader Adolf Hitler had triumphed in what he called "the most famous victory in history"—the fall of France. British craft evacuated to England over 338,000 Allied troops trapped along the northern coast of France (including much of the British Expeditionary Force (BEF)) in the Dunkirk evacuation (27 May to 4 June). British planners reported to Prime Minister Winston Churchill on 4th of October that even with the help of other Commonwealth countries and the United States, it would not be possible to regain a foothold in continental Europe in the near future. After the Axis invaded the Soviet Union in June 1941, Soviet leader Joseph Stalin began pressing for a second front in Western Europe. Churchill declined because he felt that even with American help the British did not have adequate forces for such a strike, and he wished to avoid costly frontal assaults. Two tentative plans code-named Operation Roundup and Operation Sledgehammer were put forward for 1942–43, but neither was deemed by the British to be practical or likely to succeed. Instead, the Allies expanded their activity in the Mediterranean, launching the invasion of French North Africa in November 1942, the invasion of Sicily in July 1943, and invading Italy in September. These campaigns provided the troops with valuable experience in amphibious warfare.

Those attending the Trident Conference in Washington in May 1943 took the decision to launch a cross-Channel invasion within the next year. Churchill favored making the main Allied thrust into Germany from the Mediterranean theatre, but the Americans, who were providing the bulk of the men and equipment, over-ruled him. The initial plans were constrained by the number of available landing craft, most of which were already committed in the Mediterranean and in the close to shore.

In conclusion we all know the end result thanks to the efforts of tens of thousands of troops representing several countries. Who said we can't work together to get it done?

Hearty Referral

Blair Post, HAS, BC-HIS, ACA

Board Certified Hearing Instrument Sciences
American Conference of Audioprosthology

As a small business owner, the best compliment I receive is a referral. Identifying who needs a referral can be a bit tricky. I created a story to help my clients recognize who might need my services.

When you dine out with friends you may notice someone who keeps saying "huh" or "what". This indicates they can't hear well in a noisy setting and tends to be a first indicator of a hearing loss.

Research has indicated that on average people take seven years to seek help for their hearing loss. Maybe if enough people ask, they might get the help sooner.

Over the years I have had referrals of new clients who tell me they were out to dinner with friends who recommended they come see me. And now, I have my referral suggestion taken to a whole new level.

A lovely lady, with a great heart, was out to dinner with friends. She heard a gentleman sitting at another table saying "huh" and "what" a lot. After a while she turned around, interrupted him and suggested he come and see me.

The happy ending is he did come in. His wife had been begging him to get his hearing checked for years, but it took a stranger's suggestion to convince him.

The gentleman's visit to my office revealed that he had a more severe hearing loss than he initially thought. With the help of hearing aids, he can now hear better, and his wife is happier when they go out to dinner.

If you notice someone saying "Huh" or "What" often, suggest they might need to come see me. By taking this simple step, you can help them improve their quality of life and build a stronger relationship with their loved ones.

MEMORIAL DAY LUNCH 2024

contributor Michael M Kloian

While Memorial Day is the day we pay our respects to the thousands of fallen soldiers throughout decades of wars, Veteran's Day is the day we honor our Veterans and their devoted service to our country no matter which branch they served in. July 4th is the perhaps the most celebrated Holiday when we recognize that freedom comes with a price.

Steve Rollison put together a short speech regarding Memorial day that will appear in next year's May Newsletter. After hearing his oration I felt it would be important for all BLE residents to have a copy of his presentation.

Everyone enjoyed a fabulous lunch of BBQ smoked ribs cooked by Two Roosters, baked beans and potato salad. I watched as empty plates were being placed in the trash container.

WHAT'S GOIN' ON IN BAY LAKE ESTATES? STAY CURRENT

contributor Steve Rollison 941-375-8110

YOUR MOST VALUABLE ACCOUNT

You probably have an online account that many crooks would value even more than your bank account. Really!

Hacking into your e-mail account might actually provide them easy access to all your other online accounts – including your bank and/or investment accounts. But you already knew that – right?

You did know that already if you've been an Event Alerts subscriber for a while. That's because an Alert went out not that long ago, describing how a Bay Lake resident narrowly escaped being victimized by a crafty crook pretending to be an Xfinity employee. Yes, he was trying to con the resident out of his e-mail password!

What exactly are the Event Alerts, you ask?

They are short e-mail “blasts” sent out whenever there are news items, announcements, events or activities you'd want to know about. The Bay Laker Newsletter is great, but like any printed information, it's pretty much out of date by the time you pick it up.

Alerts are the best way to stay on top of things at Bay Lake.

If you're not already a subscriber, becoming one couldn't be any easier. Just send Steve a request at: EventAlerts@SteveRollison.com

A brief “Please subscribe me,” along with your name, is all you need to send.

THE ROMEOS

Tim Swain 317-258-3400

The Romeos (the men of BLE) meet for breakfast usually on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of every month. They leave the park at 8:45. PLEASE check the sign-up sheet in the clubhouse for the location and more details and to be certain breakfast is still scheduled.

NEWSLETTERS

The Bay Laker Newsletter will not be home delivered until this coming fall, maybe October. You can always access past newsletters on-line at www.BayLakeEstates.org. After May 1st you can pick up the Bay Laker Newsletter at the Clubhouse to stay informed for current and future events.

HOA MEMBERSHIPS

HOA memberships are on sale for 2024. All homeowners may purchase a membership for $10.00 for the entire year. This is a fiscal thing, January – December.

Please note, when voting for the election of directors only one member of the HOA per household are allowed to vote, per #723 of the Florida Statute. Annual renters and occupants may purchase an Associate membership for $10.00 a year as well. All members may vote on HOA issues and expenditures and attend HOA meetings. HOA memberships are important to receive discounts or to join special events, like the Welcome Back Breakfast, Ice Cream Social, Valentine's Day dinner and dance, and more.

Memberships will be sold at Saturday morning coffee and at association meetings, or by calling Steve Medich at 708-921-3367.

THE HUMANE THING TO DO

contributor Michael M Kloian 912-547-2416

There is a disabled Vet, Keith DePaul, that hangs out at the corner of CVS on Laurel Rd. close to 41, always holding a sign looking for donations from passersby. I take food weekly to Keith and oftentimes I give Keith some cash. I received a text from Keith on a Friday indicating he had an accident on his tricycle, fell and broke his hip and that he was at Sarasota Memorial Hospital on the 5th floor. I returned his text and told him I would pay him a visit on Saturday, June 1st.

So, I picked up some flowers from Publix and wrote on the card, Speedy Recovery My Friend. When I went to visit Keith he said I was one of two friends he had that cared about him.

The reason I'm sharing this recent event is to encourage everyone to be kind to someone, albeit a stranger. Cause you never know the true impact you can have on someone's life. Keith is now my new friend and this puts a big smile on my face.

MIRACLES DO HAPPEN

THE LOBSTER LADY, ME
Legendary Maine lobster trapper Virginia 'Ginny' Oliver isn't showing any signs of slowing down! Known as the "Lobster Lady," and reportedly the oldest living lobster catcher in Maine, Oliver turned 104 on June 6, CBS affiliate WGME reported.

Known as the "Lobster Lady," and reportedly the oldest living lobster catcher in Maine. Oliver's family celebrated her birthday with her favorite desserts, chocolate cake and ice cream, per the outlet. Asked if she intends to go lobstering this summer, she replied, "Oh, I'm going to go."

As proof of her feisty spirit, she added: "I'm still the boss."

This year will mark Oliver's 96th year of lobster trapping, which she's been doing ever since she was 8 years old, working alongside her father and brother. "All my life, I've done this kind of thing," she said in a 2023 interview with The Washington Post. "I never get seasick."

Her typical daily morning routine, the newspaper added, would consist of her putting on her fishing gear, boarding a boat and catching lobsters for several hours.

Oliver's late husband was also a fisherman. Today, she works in tandem with her son Max, who is 80 years old. During their excursions, Oliver pilots the boat and bands the lobsters claws and they both work to sell their lobster haul to the Spruce Head Fisherman's Co-Op.

Oliver's longevity in the lobster business has made her a local celebrity. She even became the subject of children's picture books. Barbara Walsh, author of The Lobster Lady, recalled Oliver saying to her that she doesn't feel old, per WGME,

Asked by WCSH in 2021 about when she would retire from lobstering, Oliver simply relied, "when I die."

SCAM ALERT

Grandparent and Family Scams

Here’s how they work:

You get a call: “Grandma, I need money for bail.” Or maybe an email from someone claiming to be your brother or a friend who says they’re in trouble. They need money for a medical bill. Or some other kind of emergency. The caller says it’s urgent — and tells you to keep it a secret.

But is the caller who you think it is? Scammers are good at pretending to be someone they’re not. They can be convincing: sometimes using information from social networking sites, or hacking into your loved one’s email account, all to make it seem more real. And they’ll pressure you to send money before you have time to think.

Here’s what to do:

1. Stop. Check it out. Look up your family member’s phone number yourself and call another family member to check out the story.
2. Pass this information on to a friend. You may not have gotten one of these calls, but chances are, you know someone who will get one — if they haven’t already.
