Dear Community Members,

I hope this message finds you and your loved ones safe as our community works through the aftermath of two devastating hurricanes. My heart goes out to all those affected, especially those who have experienced loss, damage and displacement.

In these difficult moments, we are also witnessing incredible acts of kindness and solidarity. Neighbors helping neighbors, free hot food being delivered and distributed daily, residents opening their doors to others for hot showers or the use of their laundry equipment, some sharing crucial information and assistance for disaster relief applications, others cutting and removing attached debris - shining lights during dark times.

The road to recovery will be a long one. We will support each other and emerge from this stronger than before, despite the fact this doesn't seem possible.

Stay safe, stay strong and reach out to others if you need help!

THE CAKE WARS - 09/01/2024 (History Channel) – The Food That Built America

Duncan Hines was a travelling salesman who frequented a large number of restaurants across the U.S. during his travels from city to city. He began recording his findings of good food to eat in great restaurants in the smaller mom & pop diners and quickly became a bon-a-fide food critic. Folks followed his articles faithfully. He then printed and released a book titled “Adventures of Good Eating” which created quite the following, while building a name for himself – Duncan Hines.

It's no secret that women, in the 50's, were housewives who stayed at home to do the normal chores that housewives did. Cooking and baking was one of them and the dinner table was barren unless she baked a cake, which at that time was “the holy grail” of homemaking. However, baking a cake from scratch wasn't easy for women back then. The cakes were flat, lacked flavor and they were often burnt in the oven because of the wrong temperature. And, let's face it, making the icing was a pain in the butt.

SO, THE BATTLE OF BOXED CAKE BEGINS

Then along came Betty Crocker, a fictitious character who walked women through various steps of baking a cake for her radio listeners (TV's weren't yet popular enough for folks to own one). She developed quite the following that is until Fortune 500 magazine labelled her a fake, merely because she was a ‘voice’ on the radio and never made personal appearances. But her fans loved her. She was real to them.

Then the cake wars began between Betty Crocker, Pillsbury and Duncan Hines.

P. Duff and Sons, a molasses company based in Pittsburgh, patented the first boxed cake mix in 1933. John D. Duff, the company's owner, invented the mix to use up the company's excess molasses. The cake mix was made by combining dehydrated molasses with flour, sugar, and dried eggs. Home cooks could simply add water to the mix to make the cake batter and then bake the cake.

The boxed cake mix industry really took off in the 1950s when companies began marketing their mixes with sugary frosting. However, sales of boxed cake mixes plateaued in the 1950s because some women felt guilty using them. Psychologist Ernest Dichter, who invented the term “focus group”, studied housewives and suggested that the mixes should be reformulated to require one or two fresh eggs. This would make bakers feel more invested in the end product, which would lead to increased sales.

General Mills began selling cake mixes under the Betty Crocker brand in 1947. Duncan Hines first cake mix came along in 1951 with a vanilla flavoring, making it the tastiest cake-in-a-box mix. I mean, if Duncan Hines says it's good – well, America listened. But Betty Crocker was the first cake mix to create frosting inside the box. This single step solved many issues for the American cake maker.

The end result is and was a huge variety of cake mixes. Frosting toppings slammed the market and folks just simply stopped making their own cake mix from scratch because the boxed cake mix was quick and easy. A remarkable win for the food industry.

Only in a Restaurant

Blair Post, HAS, BC-HIS, ACA

Board Certified Hearing Instrument Sciences
American Conference of Audioprosthology

I recently had a consultation with a guy who was frustrated that he couldn't hear well in restaurants. He shared that he had bought cheap hearing aids specifically for use when going out, explaining that he didn't feel the need to invest in higher-quality devices since he only wanted to hear better when dining out.

I understood his thinking—he believed hearing aids could simply filter out background noise, allowing him to focus solely on speech. Hearing aids, however, don't work quite that way. They amplify specific frequencies, and high-quality hearing aids use artificial intelligence (AI) to recognize and reduce background noise, making speech brighter.

His reasoning wasn't entirely off. He understood that hearing aids could help improve speech clarity in noisy environments. However, what he overlooked was how the brain processes new sounds.

When we hear an unidentified sound our brain goes on alert, part of our flight or fight response—a survival mechanism. New sounds are initially perceived as potential threats, and the brain reacts to each one. I often explain this by saying the brain is "showing off" all the sounds it can hear.

The best way to train your brain to hear well in a restaurant is by wearing your hearing aids consistently. Wear your hearing aids in a quiet house, running into the grocery store or even stopping by the library. Regular use of your hearing aids helps your brain adapt to different sounds. Over time, your brain will learn to tune out unwanted noise and focus on what's important—like conversations.

By wearing quality hearing aids which brighten speech in noise and having trained your brain you are able to be more engaged while dining out with friends.

If you're struggling to hear well when out with friends, call for a free hearing test.

(READY FOR DISTRIBUTION AUGUST-SEPTEMBER 2024)

CHANGES ARE COMING TO GARBAGE COLLECTION SERVICES

Automated garbage collection service is coming to unincorporated Sarasota County in March 2025. This process is used by waste haulers to more efficiently and safely collect materials for disposal by using mechanical arms to empty the contents from the containers.

Each residence will receive one garbage cart, with the option to select a 95-gallon, 65-gallon or 35-gallon cart. This is included as part of the annual non-ad valorem tax assessment collected through the property owner's tax bill. Property owners and residents will be able to request additional garbage carts. The additional carts will be considered a supplemental service so residents will be billed directly by their hauler for collection and disposal services. More information about additional carts will be provided closer to the service transition.

Key Dates

Nov. 11-Dec. 31, 2024: Select preferred size for new garbage cart*.

January-March 2025: Delivery of new garbage carts.

March 31, 2025: Automated garbage collection service begins with new franchise haulers.

New franchise haulers

Waste Pro of Florida, Inc. was selected as the new franchise hauler for the Solid Waste North Service Area and FCC Environmental Services of Florida, LLC was selected as the new franchise hauler for the Solid Waste South Service Area.

Continue to follow current disposal guidelines for collection services through March 28, 2025. For additional details about the upcoming changes including FAQs and maps of service areas, please visit scgov.net/FreshStartWithACart.

*Sample garbage carts will be on display throughout Sarasota County during the cart selection window.

YOUR MOST VALUABLE ACCOUNT

You probably have an online account that many crooks would value even more than your bank account. Really!

Hacking into your e-mail account might actually provide them easy access to all your other online accounts – including your bank and/or investment accounts. But you already knew that – right?

You did know that already if you've been an Event Alerts subscriber for a while. That's because an Alert went out not that long ago, describing how a Bay Lake resident narrowly escaped being victimized by a crafty crook pretending to be an Xfinity employee. Yes, he was trying to con the resident out of his e-mail password!

What exactly are the Event Alerts, you ask?

They are short e-mail “blasts” sent out whenever there are news items, announcements, events or activities you'd want to know about. The Bay Laker Newsletter is great, but like any printed information, it's pretty much out of date by the time you pick it up.

Alerts are the best way to stay on top of things at Bay Lake.

If you're not already a subscriber, becoming one couldn't be any easier. Just send Steve a request at: EventAlerts@SteveRollison.com

BLACK HISTORY BECOMES A REALITY for the Thompsons...

In March 2024, San Diego State University announced a $5 million gift to the university's Black Resource Center from brothers Ron and Lloyd Dong, Jr. and their spouses, Janice and Girina. The gift, the family said, was made as a tribute to Gus and Emma Thompson, a Black couple who, in the late 1930s, rented and eventually sold to the Dongs' parents the Coronado house in which the brothers grew up.

On Sept. 16, 2024, a dedication and ribbon-cutting ceremony named the Center for the Thompsons.

The Dongs' heritage is Chinese and in their parents' day, people of color faced difficulty renting or buying property in Coronado. The Thompsons' gesture was exceptional.

But who were the Thompsons?

According to Kevin Ashley, a researcher who specializes in the African American history of Coronado, both Gus and Emma were self-made entrepreneurs who became an early power couple in the area's Black community where, he said, “they fought for what was right.”

Earlier this year, Ashley put together an exhibit for the Coronado Historical Association tracing the island’s African American community back through 1885. The Thompsons were among the families featured.

Ashley’s research revealed Gustavus A. Thompson was born into slavery in Kentucky in 1859. He was working as a coach driver in Henderson during 1885 when he met E.S. Babcock, a founder of the Hotel del Coronado, who was visiting Thompson’s wealthy employer on a fundraising mission for the hotel.

In 1886, Thompson joined a Black group and followed Babcock to Coronado where he was hired as Babcock’s coach driver and carried the first guests to the Hotel del Coronado when it opened in January 1888. Thompson and Babcock remained associates for over 30 years.

Emma Gardner was born in Texas in 1869 and arrived in San Diego in 1885 in the company of an Illinois family she worked for as a domestic servant. She married Gus in 1893 and in 1899 the couple purchased two Coronado lots where they built a livery stable and a house in where they raised three children. By 1902, Gus was running a successful livery stable and transport business while Emma ran a coffee shop in Coronado’s Tent City.

The Thompsons’ three children were Walter, a World War I hero who served in France; Edythe, who married Black tennis champion Ballinger Kemp and worked in Hollywood as a personal assistant for screen star Bette Davis; and Edward, the youngest, who would become Southern California’s first Black college football star.

“They were just an incredible family,” successful by any measure,” Ashley said. He described the Thompsons as elite, but humble.

“They were wealthy and had achieved a lot, but they didn’t forget where they came from. They were always trying to uplift others.”

The Dong’s, the donors of the 5 million, said in an interview, “we’re just doing the right thing.”

LANDING ON THE MOON?

When we think of ‘miracles’ we probably don’t consider the landing on the moon a miracle. Or, perhaps it is!

Apollo 8, which launched on December 21, 1968, was the first mission to take humans to the Moon and back. While the crew did not land on the Moon’s surface, the flight was an important prelude to a lunar landing, testing the flight trajectory and Apollo 11 was a spaceflight conducted by the United States from July 16 to July 24, 1969. It marked the first time in history that humans landed on the Moon.

Most recently, however, as viewed on NBC's Nightly News with Lester Holt, the Polaris X Crew made history as well while travelling through Space. Sarah Gillis, an astronaut on SpaceX's Polaris Dawn mission, was the very first astronaut to play her violin in space where there is no gravity, which was recorded. This was no ordinary violin. Gillis played a violin made by Christian Pedersen at Robertson & Sons Violin Shop in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The shop has been making, selling, and repairing bowed string instruments since 1971.

WHERE TO DINE – WHAT TO ORDER

contributor Michael M Kloian (912-547-2416)

CHAZ 51 - Venice's Premier Steakhouse

So everyone at BLE knows by now that Prime Serious Steak and Chaz 51 are my two favorite places to dine. The owner/chef of Chaz 51 is Charles Amherst, pictured next to me.

When you think of Chaz 51 you might think 'steak' and you would be correct, except their menu offers much more than the traditional selection of steaks. For example, I dined there one evening and ordered their CILANTRO LIME SCOTTISH SALMON from the dinner menu and it was outstanding – some of the best salmon I've ever had, served on a bed of delicious rice with cooked vegetables on the side.

I always start with a bowl of that yummy ROASTED TOMATO BISQUE soup. They do serve a generous slice of garlic toast/bread with the soup, which I dunk in my soup. I also very much enjoy their Sesame Crusted Ahi Tuna plate (Sashimi grade, seared rare, wasabi ginger sauce, chopped salad, pickled ginger). Charles serves the tuna over a bed of a this very tasty special salad mix. For me, this plate is filling.

I've also had their BLUE CHEESE FILET MIGNON SALAD and all I can say is you'll probably go back for more.

Their Lounge Menu sports 13 great food selections, some of which is NOT on the Dinner Menu. There is a two dollar savings with selections from the Lounge Menu only when you sit in the lounge area.

Should you order an entre from the regular menu you may also be served a side salad with house dressing, which is highly recommended by Moi. They have a salad person in the kitchen and the salad's presentation is spot on, as are the ingredients, especially the cherry tomatoes that are pre-sliced in half and neatly placed around the salad along the rim of the plate.

Two very big thumbs up for Chaz 51. Yes, you can tell Charles Michael sent you.

MY FAVORITE FILM OR TV SHOW

contributor Michael M Kloian (912-547-2416)

NEVER JUDGE A BOOK BY ITS COVER

If you like/enjoy raw talent, and I'm not talking about WWE, then you will love the following:

Watching AGT (America's Got Talent) is both fun and exciting to see for a number of reasons. Before season 2024 came to an end, I watched the quarter finals and semi-finals and if for any reason you missed either episode just use your remote control and speak, after the button is depressed, "America's Got Talent," then click on Episodes and look for an episode you wish to view. The finale was also very exciting.

This is what you may have missed: Richard Goodall walked out on stage for the first time and nobody expected this powerhouse of a singer to knock everyone off their feet, including Simon Cowell (a judge that gets booed quite often) but Richard's performance simply blew away the entire audience. The audience was on their feet within seconds clapping and cheering for Richard after he opened his mouth and began singing 'Don't Stop Believing' by Journey, which was the first song Richard sang, which pushed him through round one.

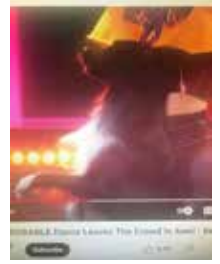

Richard is from a small town in Indiana where he's worked as a janitor for the past 23 years and the kids in his school call him Mr. Richard. He sings in the hallways, in the gym, in the cafeteria – whenever he is cleaning up and sweeping the floors. And the kids encouraged Richard to try out on AGT.

To look at Richard one would never have guessed he had that much talent hiding inside - (never judge a book by its cover.) Heidi Klum, a judge, certainly thought so because following his outstanding performance of the Journey song she happily pressed the Golden Buzzer (an automatic pass for the artist to proceed to the finals), which is the highest compliment an artist can receive on AGT, telling Richard as she reached out to press the golden buzzer that she loved him.

Richard did win this season's AGT finale. Rhythm and Roni, a spectacular dog performance came in a close second. This act won America's heart instantly.

To watch and listen to either live performance that evening simply go to YouTube.com and type in his name and/or the song 'Don't Stop Believing' by Journey or Rhythm & Roni. One may not need to fly to Las Vegas (which I'm certain they will scoop her up sooner than later) to see this spectacular dog show live. Just go to YouTube.com.

In conclusion, Journey made a special appearance on AGT just to play their song live while Richard sang his heart out.

Richard's life will never be the same again after that incredible performance.
